Voltage Hosts Event, Raises Funds for Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

OAKLEY, OHIO – December 12, 2007 – Voltage Inc. raised hundreds of dollars for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at an event last month, heightening awareness of the disease that afflicts approximately 30,000 Americans.

Voltage hosted the event at their location in Oakley, serving appetizers and drinks to those who came out to support their efforts.

“We look forward to a long and prosperous partnership with the Foundation,” said Jeff Hinkel, owner of Voltage. “It is a disease that is very near to our hearts, and we’re eager to support the cause in any way possible.”

Voltage continues to work with the Foundation on various events, highlighting May as Cystic Fibrosis awareness month. The Foundation will be celebrating the lives of those affected by CF, increasing the public’s knowledge of the disease that is diagnosed in more than 1,000 new cases each year.

Established in 1989, Voltage is the only retail store of its kind in the region specializing in modern high design furniture, lighting and accessories from Europe. More information can be accessed at www.voltagefurniture.com or by calling 513.871.5483.
